UCLA GRADUATE WRITING CENTER

Humanities Research and Writing Workshops

Strategies for Writing the Humanities Dissertation Prospectus
Jeannine Murray-Román, Comparative Literature
This workshop is geared towards giving incipient prospectus writers the tools to write their prospectus over the course of two months. We will discuss literature review and argument development as well as how to turn the many different pieces of a prospectus into a coherent document. Nota bene: this is meant to be an addition to--not a substitution for--serious discussions with your advisor about what is expected of you in your home department.
Wednesday, October 10th, 5:00-7:00pm
Location: Conference Room B4, Student Activities Center

Finding Journal Articles Online Humanities focus (Special thanks to the UCLA Library for this workshop)
Learn how to find the full text articles online, how to discover the best databases for articles on a given topic, and how to use these resources effectively through online demonstration and hands-on instruction.
Wednesday, October 17th, 3:00-3:50pm
Location: Research Library East Electronic Classroom, room 21536

Developing Yourself as an Academic Writer in the Humanities
Dr. Randy Fallows, Writing Programs
In this workshop we will discuss strategies for developing your writing abilities as a Humanities scholar, including: keeping a critical reading journal, organizing research, connecting to other disciplines, and becoming comfortable with critical theory.
Tuesday, October 23rd, 3-5pm
Location: Conference Room B4, Student Activities Center

Strategies for Writing Graduate Course Papers in the Humanities and Social Sciences
Dr. Randy Fallows, Writing Programs
In this workshop we will discuss ways to develop papers for graduate courses, including how to develop a more complex thesis, understanding the nature of analysis, applying other disciplines to inform your own, and the uses and limits of a critical vocabulary.
Thursday, November 8th, 3-5pm
Location: Conference Room B4, Student Activities Center
