Dear Graduate and Professional Students,

On behalf of the Graduate Student Association (GSA), welcome to UCLA! May these be among the most educationally, and personally enriching years of your life! The GSA has two primary missions: to represent the interests of graduate and professional students on the local, national and international levels, and to directly improve the quality of life for graduate and professional students through our many events and programs.

I invite you to join us for special social and networking events, including museum receptions, club nights, filmmaking, and student films, to enjoy our prestigious Melnitz Movies Series, which routinely brings the world's top filmmakers to campus. Also, I encourage you to be an active participant. You can get involved right away; there are well over 100 elected and appointed positions available.

The UCLA Store in Ackerman Union is the main campus store, with over 80 stores and services, including giftware, textbooks, technology, and more. We have a dedicated Graduate and Professional Student store, as well as on-campus consignment locations. See the map on the back for all the locations.

Visit www.gsa.asucla.ucla.edu for more information.

Michael D. Skiles
Student Body President

Michael D. Skiles
Student Body President
www.gsa.asucla.ucla.edu

Dear Graduate and Professional Students,

Please let me know if you'd like to get involved, or if there's anything away; there are will over 100 elected and appointed positons available.

Michael D. Skiles
Student Body President

Michael D. Skiles
Student Body President

Michael D. Skiles
Student Body President
You will receive emails with coupons, news updates from your student association, and other promotional information. Visit our website, app, or join our Facebook or Twitter groups for more updates.

For up-to-date hours and locations download the ASUCLA app!

Associated Students UCLA
THE LARGEST STUDENT ASSOCIATION IN THE NATION

ASUCLA is an independent student-led organization dedicated to helping fellow students succeed at UCLA, and beyond, through entrepreneurship with a purpose; connection to valuable services and opportunities; and access to spaces that support student needs.

INDEPENDENT

ASUCLA is a source of growth, separation, and ministries among the University and students on campus. Established in 1919 to fulfill the expectation that students fund their own activities, even now in the Association combined student government with income-producing campus centers, the first operations including a coffee and book exchange. The evolution of the Association today includes student government, Student Media, and Student Run centers overseen by the Associated Student Board of Directors. Collectively these entities make up the largest student association in the nation.

STUDENT GOVERNANCE

The Graduate Student Association, or GSA, is the official graduate student government at UCLA. It is a student-run and student-elected organization, GSA advocates on behalf of students and creates programs that enhance student experience at UCLA. GSA also hosts socials, movie screenings, and other events that brighten up the UCLA graduate student experience.

STUDENT VOICES

Student Media, overseen by the student-majority Communications Board, publishes the Daily Bruin campus newspaper, UCLA Radio, the Bruin Life yearbook, and seven campus magazines.

STUDENT-RUN ENTERPRISES

Today, ASUCLA is a $70 million operation, owned by student-majority Board of Directors. The income-producing services today provide over a million dollars in support of student activities, over 1400 student jobs on campus, and allows ASUCLA to maintain the lowest student union fee among all UC campuses.

The Associated Students UCLA Student Media Board and GSA have been the winners of the California College Media Association’s Student Media of the Year Award, along with a number of other awards recognizing work in the student publishing and public relations fields. ASUCLA owns an independent student radio station, UCLA Radio, which broadcasts news and entertainment programming seven days a week.

Meet your incoming graduate student members on the ASUCLA Student Media Board.

The Associated Students UCLA Student Media Board, in collaboration with the University Health Services, features the largest student-run health education program in the country. The OneUCLA Health Program delivers student-friendly health education materials to all students, including the Student Media Board’s health education program, the most expansive health education program on UCLA’s campus and the only such program in the nation.

WELCOME GRADUATE STUDENTS
FROM THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS UCLA

One Free Tall Latte or Cappuccino

One free tall latte or cappuccino, one for each student union member shown on your Bruin Card.

Santa Barbara

Lu Valles Commons

Jamba Juice lounge, A-level

Kerckhoff Hall

second & third floor

No Northern Lights

Ackerman Union

2nd Floor Kerckhoff

One Free Tall Latte

One free tall latte for each student union member shown on your Bruin Card.

Panda Express, Wolfgang Puck Express, Poké, specialty sandwiches, entrees, pizza

Kerckhoff Hall

Café Synapse

Café 451

Music Café

North Campus Shop

North Campus Student Center

Ostin Music Center

CHS Patio

Terasaki Life Sciences Building

A-level (textbooks) and B-level

Avenue-A, Ackerman Union

For the 2018-19 ASUCLA Board of Directors:

Teniope Adewumi-Gunn, a doctoral student in the UCLA Fielding School of Public Health (left), and Lawrence Traylor Jr, currently pursuing a J.D. at the UCLA School of Law (right).